

Subject: 1738 Spanish coin;
"Pageant of America"

Parodi, Frank J.
[Glenburn, CA]

1937

American Numismatic Society
New York,
New York, City

January 1, 1937
Glenburn, Calif,
C.C.C.

Dear Sirs;

As I was looking through the Pageant of America I ran Across some old Spanish coins on page 287. The date on the coin was 1766 and in my possession I have a coin similar.
My coin is dated 1738 and I am curious to know if the coin is of any more value than it was intended when it was made. If so would you please write me and let me know.

Yours Sincerely.

Frank J. Parodi

January 11, 1937

Mr. Frank J. Parodi,
CCC.
Glenburn, Calif.

Dear Sir:

As a rule the Spanish coins of the period you mention are not rare. In fact, they are rather common. If in poor condition it would probably be worth little more or no more than silver value. If in very fine condition, face value or a little over. Also, it depends upon the Mint that struck the pieces. At any rate, you have no rarity.

Very truly yours,

Curator

HW ks